

DTP Dynamic Trunking Protocol

- It supports autonegotiation for both ISL and IEEE 802.1 Q trunks
- It must be disabled on an interface if you do not want the interface to work as a trunk or start negotiation to become a trunk
- It is a point-to-point protocol.